

FORT ROSS IN THE NEWS

WINE ENTHUSIAST
MAGAZINE

95 PINOT NOIR "SEA SLOPES" 2010 Editors' Choice - SOLD OUT

Here's more proof that sometimes a winery's least expensive bottling can be its best. The wine is first class, from the translucent ruby color to the power and delicacy of the mouthfeel. There's something haunting and distinctly Fort Ross-ian in the wild cherry, mushroom and pine flavors that seem to echo the fog, sun and redwood forests of this remote region. Really delicious now and through 2018 or so. APRIL, 2013

95 CHARDONNAY 2009 TOP 100 WINES 2011 • #28 Editors' Choice - SOLD OUT

A brilliant Chardonnay. Almost nothing quite like it out there.

95 PINOT NOIR 2007 • Editors' Choice - SOLD OUT

93 PINOT NOIR RESERVE 2009 : Classic Fort Ross Pinot Noir, this is rich and textural. The flavors of raspberry parfait and cherry pie are spicy, honeyed and brightened by acidity. Drink now, but it will slowly evolve in the bottle over the next eight years. APRIL, 2013

92 CHARDONNAY 2010 - SOLD OUT

94 PINOT NOIR RESERVE 2007 - Library : A very beautiful wine that shows the exotic, feral quality of the greatest Pinot Noirs from the Fort Ross area. It's explosive in wild raspberry and cherry flavors, with hints of pine, cola, wintergreen, anise, bacon and smoky, sweet vanillins from oak barrels. A wine of great pedigree, it's showing well now, and should hold for the next six years. OCT, 2011

93 PINOT NOIR "SYMPOSIUM" 2007 • Editors' Choice - SOLD OUT

92 PINOT NOIR 2008 - SOLD OUT

91 PINOT NOIR RESERVE 2007: Although the richest of the several Fort Ross Pinots reviewed in this month's issue, the 2007 Reserve is also the most mannerly and refined of the bunch as well. Its inviting cherry and pastry-crust smells are followed up with like-minded flavors that show a certain measured refinement, and its extra time in the bottle is in part responsible for its polish. It makes for thoroughly satisfying drinking right now, but it still has room left for a bit of additional growth. FEB, 2012

90 PINOT NOIR 2009 : Despite being located within splashing distance of the Pacific, the vineyards at Fort Ross sit high enough up in the coastal hills that they are able to give off wines that are both ripe and balanced. Here, the black cherry nature of the fruit is filled out by invitingly spicy nuances and hints of dried flowers.

90 PINOT NOIR "SYMPOSIUM" 2009 - SOLD OUT

90 PINOT NOIR RESERVE 2005 - Library

90 CHARDONNAY RESERVE 2005 - Library

Dan Berger's
Vintage Experiences

PINOT NOIR "SYMPOSIUM" 2009 : EXCEPTIONAL: Classy aroma of cherry, tea, very faint note of pepper, and a weight that's a bit Burgundian. A wine that needs aeration; will be lot more complex in 2-3 years.

PINOTAGE 2007 : EXCEPTIONAL: This thick skinned South African grape often makes an odd wine, but here special clonal material personally cleared through official channels makes a dark, blackberry/plum scented wine with weight in the mid-palate and graceful structure. Faintly rustic finish; a great wine to serve blind to a wine snob.

CHARDONNAY 2010 ★★★★★ 1/2 EXCEPTIONAL: Elegantly flavored... Crisp Chardonnay, with full body, moderate richness, and a long, crisp finish, tasting of apple, lemon peel, grapefruit, toast, and roasted nut.

PINOT NOIR "SYMPOSIUM" 2009 ★★★★★EXCEPTIONAL:Excellent - a supple, ripely flavored, full bodied style. It is lightly oaked, well balanced, & long on the finish, tasting of plum, cassis, toast, nutmeg, and spicy oak.

PINOT NOIR RESERVE 2009 ★★★★★EXCEPTIONAL: Subtle and elegant... The Reserve is outstanding: a rich, full bodied wine with supple texture, light tannin, and a long finish, tasting of plum, raspberry, toast, rosehips, and spicy oak. Very fine quality.

PINOT NOIR 2009 ★★★★★EXCELLENT : Subtle, elegant... fleshy and ripely flavored; a well balanced wine with red currant, plum, kola nut, toast, and spicy oak aromas/flavors. Medium long, lightly tannic finish.

PINOT NOIR RESERVE 2005 Fort Ross Vineyard, Sonoma Coast: ★★★★★+ EXCELLENT

94 PINOT NOIR RESERVE 2009: This is a gorgeous wine with complex aromas and flavors of strawberry and spices with hints of briny beef. Voluptuous mouthfeel. Very balanced tannins. All here.

93 PINOT NOIR 2009: Super nose of leather, chili, shiitake mushroom, and berries. Full-bodied, with wonderfully focused tannins and a spices. So refined and pretty. Gorgeous. Drink or hold.

91 PINOT NOIR "SYMPOSIUM" 2009 : Interesting aromas of cherries and beef jerky follow through to a full bodied palate with strawberry and aspic. Big tannins for a PN.

91 PINOT NOIR 2010: A red with rich aromas of strawberries and cranberries showing some fresh mushrooms. Palate has some preserves and a long, big finish. This is a full-bodied wine showing nicely balanced acidity.

WINEMAKING IN A HOSTILE CLIMATE ON SONOMA'S COAST: Small, idealistic operations...The Sonoma coast pinot noirs have...shown themselves to be among California's best and most distinctive wines, dense and concentrated without being heavy, full of dark fruit and earth flavors and a singular structure of tightly wound acidity. The best Chardonnays are simultaneously rich yet taut, with lively acidity and citrus and mineral flavors.

JAMES SUCKLING.COM

The
New York
Times

90 PINOT NOIR SEA SLOPES 2010 Fort Ross Vineyard, Fort Ross-Seaview • Sonoma Coast - SOLD OUT

This offers an exacting mix of fresh, vibrant dark berry, crushed rock, watermelon and raspberry flavor. Intermittently supple, yet very firm on the finish. Drink now through 2022. 924 cases made. —JL. SEPT 30, 2013

90 PINOT NOIR RESERVE 2009 Fort Ross Vineyard, Fort Ross-Seaview • Sonoma Coast

Offers lots of smoky, toasty oak, with fruit to match, cloaking rich dark berry flavors that are intense, deep and persistent. Shows impressive purity, backbone and density. Needs time. Best from 2014 through 2023. 303 cases made. —JL SEPT 30, 2013

90 PINOT NOIR RESERVE 2007 Fort Ross Vineyard, Fort Ross-Seaview • Sonoma Coast - Library Wine

Offers deep, complex, focused plum, mineral and black cherry fruit that's supple and delicate. Full-bodied, ending with a subtle mix of flavors laced with sassafras. Drink now through 2016. 344 cases made.—J.L. OCT 2011

92 PINOT NOIR RESERVE 2005 Fort Ross Vineyard, Sonoma Coast

92 PINOT NOIR RESERVE 2004 Fort Ross Vineyard, Sonoma Coast

91 PINOT NOIR 2007 Fort Ross Vineyard, Sonoma Coast

90 PINOT NOIR 2005 Fort Ross Vineyard, Sonoma Coast

91 PINOT NOIR 2004 Fort Ross Vineyard, Sonoma Coast

91 PINOT NOIR 2003 Fort Ross Vineyard, Sonoma Coast

92 PINOT NOIR SYMPOSIUM 2003 Fort Ross Vineyard, Sonoma Coast

90 CHARDONNAY 2009 Fort Ross Vineyard, Sonoma Coast

90 CHARDONNAY 2004 Fort Ross Vineyard, Sonoma Coast

93 CHARDONNAY 2003 Fort Ross Vineyard, Sonoma Coast

90 CHARDONNAY RESERVE 2002 Fort Ross Vineyard, Sonoma Coast

90 PINOTAGE 2004 Fort Ross Vineyard, Sonoma Coast

91 PINOTAGE 2003 Fort Ross Vineyard, Sonoma Coast

18 EXCITING CALIFORNIA REDS: James Laube

New reviews of Napa Cabernet, Sonoma Pinot and more, each for $50 or less.

The best values include a $37 Fort Ross Pinot Noir 2007 (91 POINTS:), from the true Sonoma Coast, a 2007 Domaine Chandon Carneros Pinot and a $30 Landmark McDowell Valley Grenache.

Online June 14, 2010 <http://www.winespectator.com/webfeature/show/id/42934>

TASTING HIGHLIGHTS: CALIFORNIA PINOT NOIR: James Laube

15 new California Pinot Noirs from some of the state's TOP PRODUCERS, and a rare outstanding California Pinotage.

Fort Ross made two EXCELLENT true Sonoma Coast 2005 Pinots.

I also liked Fort Ross's rare (for California) Pinotage, a grape from South Africa that is a cross between Pinot Noir and Cinsault; it has a

Online September 15, 2008 : <http://www.winespectator.com/Wine/Features/Premium/0,1197,4594,00.html>

A DISCOVERY ON THE SONOMA COAST: James Laube

Fort Ross Vineyard has found a groove. Wine lovers should pay serious attention.

I tried the new wines last week, informally during a visit with Linda and in blind tastings for formal reviews. The new wines are excellent, and the Chardonnay and Pinot Noir are both modestly priced. The 2003 CHARDONNAY is intense, vibrant, clean and structured, with lively acidity and a mix of lemon, butterscotch and green apple flavors turning rich and creamy. The 2004 CHARDONNAY follows suit, with intense, vibrant, focused fruit. The 2004 RESERVE CHARDONNAY is a shade richer, very good, but I liked it less than the regular 2004. Both the 2003 PINOT NOIR and 2003 PINOT NOIR SYMPOSIUM are rich, complex and impeccably balanced. The latter wine includes four percent Pinotage. The 2004 PINOT NOIR Sonoma Coast is fragrant and delicate, while the 2004 RESERVE PINOT offers complex earth, spice and berry flavors that are expansive and chewy. The 2003 PINOTAGE is deep and flavorful and shows a touch more tannin than the Pinot Noir Symposium.

Fort Ross' lineup is impressive. The quality is terrific, the prices are more than fair and the case volume means the wines will be available, though I wouldn't wait too long. Online February 20, 2007